The no-year amount that has been available for litigation support contracts has remained stable at $10,000,000 since FY 1994, while the overall appropriation for GLA has more than doubled. Further, during these past two decades, the litigation support needs of the Department's litigating divisions have skyrocketed. Moreover, because of the nature of complex litigation, using no-year appropriations is far more efficient than using annual appropriations for litigation support contracts. Nearly all of the DOJ's largest and most information-intensive cases cross multiple fiscal years. Between document preservation, document collection, document production, depositions, motions practice, pre-trial activities, and trial, cases often last for several years. The availability of no-year money for litigation support contracts allows the Government to proceed without disruptions that could be fatal to the Government's position. In addition, the FY 2015 request proposes $685,000 in no-year authority for INTERPOL Washington dues payments to aid with fluctuations in dues payments resulting from changes in currency exchange rates, which is the natural outcome of the floating exchange rate system that is the norm in today's global economy. The Civil Rights Division directs and manages the election monitoring provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (42 U.S.C. 1973f) and provides significant annual resources on behalf of election monitoring efforts in addition to reimbursing the Office of Personnel Management for salaries and expenses. Beginning in FY 2014, if states cannot certify compliance with certain PREA standards, states will lose five percent of covered DOJ grant funds unless states provide an assurance that they will use five percent of such funds toward achieving full compliance with the standards. Due to a change to the STOP Program statute made by the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013, which permits states to fund rape crisis centers to help victims of sexual assault in prison, the bulk of STOP Program funding will be subject to this five-percent reallocation/reduction requirement. Imposing the PREA funding requirement on STOP awards, however, would create a significant and unintended hardship for STOP subgrantees, particularly victim service providers. ▪ Deletes language stating that OVW is to establish a Sexual Assault Clearinghouse. This national clearinghouse opened in the fall of 2013; therefore, the appropriation language should no longer say 'to establish.' Further, the clearinghouse is technically the technical assistance provider's clearinghouse (not OVWs), thus the wording was updated.
