Thank you for this. Can you please put this into final form for the AG so that we can hand this to him as part of the prep for the meeting later this week? I think we can leave out the proposals for legislation.

Many thanks,

Subject: Threat and Election Statutes

Hi

I have attached the relevant chapters of the United States Code on threat offenses and election-related offenses. We have a few applicable threat statutes that could apply to threatening communications to election officials / workers, including Title 18, United States Code, sections 875, 876, and 877. However, my review of the election statutes did not reveal anything on point. I could be missing something, and I'd like to verify with PIN at the appropriate time, but there appears to be (b) (5) .

I also located some proposals for legislative action:

Defending democracy means defending those who make democracy work. Every Election Day, tens of thousands of local election workers help ensure that we hold the free and fair elections that undergird the peaceful transfer of power. If the right to vote is the most "precious in a free country," then local election workers are the guardians and caretakers of that right.

Yet, since November, we have witnessed an alarming increase in violent threats and harassment aimed at our frontline election workers. They have ranged from in-person harassment to threats cloaked in the anonymity of social media and the internet. It has led many of these dedicated public servants and civic-minded individuals to resign from their positions or simply retire from helping to administer our elections.

We must be particularly focused on the impact this is having on local election officials and poll workers — paid and unpaid. While elected and statewide officials have put themselves into the public arena and should expect the praise and criticism that results, local officials and workers have not. A social media post accusing the secretary of state of "stealing the election" is not the same as one aimed at a local precinct volunteer or county election worker. We do not have a shortage of people willing to run for secretary of state, but we are likely to face an acute shortage of local election workers.

In fact, we already have too few people willing to prepare for Election Day, work the polls, and count the ballots afterward. Every time an election worker is threatened or harassed for administering an election, it is an attack on our democracy. It is time we treat it as such.

First, Congress must make it a federal crime to threaten or harass local election officials including volunteer election workers or their families. Congress already provides similar protections for many federal government officials and law enforcement and should extend those to every election worker in the country. The Department of Justice should prioritize criminal prosecution of threats against election officials and workers with a particular focus on Election Day volunteers. By doing this we will send the message to those working to make our elections successful that we value their work and their safety.

Second, Congress should provide these officials with a private right of action against anyone who threatens or harasses them, including an award of attorneys' fees if they prevail. After 2020, one of the most effective tools to dissuade the dissemination of disinformation about individuals and companies involved in the election was private litigation. That is a model we should build upon.

Third, Congress should clarify that all identifying information about local election officials and workers is exempt from the federal Freedom of Information Act, without exception. Similarly, it should preempt state disclosure laws that make such information available. States should enact these laws at the state level as well. While disclosure and transparency in government are important, any value gained by publicizing this information is outweighed by our collective interest in the safety and security of our election workers.

Finally, the media must revise its policies regarding coverage of local election workers to ensure their safety. The media should agree to avoid naming election workers or providing identifying information about them or their families. They should not publish photographs or video images depicting election officials without their express consent. And, social media companies need to do their part as well. To start, they should identify harassment of election workers as a category of violation of their terms of use with an easy way to identify and take down offending pictures, videos and information quickly. They also need to clamp down on the disinformation about election administration and results that often feeds the abuse of election workers to begin with.

While the For the People Act hangs in the balance, one step forward would be to include these provisions in the landmark legislation. However, the crisis facing our frontline election workers cannot wait, and defending them should be bipartisan and noncontroversial.

Without election workers, we cannot have free and fair elections, and without elections, we will no longer have a democracy. We must act now to protect those who safeguard our right to vote.

Shaylyn:

Below is more information on the election security call that is being planned for Thursday.

We (OASG) are starting to put together brief comments for the ASG, and I was thinking we would touch upon some of the topics that the AAG discussed with NASS' subcommittee. Question might CRT have specific topics that should also be highlighted? If not, we will circulate some brief notes for any feedback from CRT.

Thank you again!

In terms of election security issues, have you talked to PIN? CRT actually doesn't deal with election worker security directly. In truth, we have only a secondary role when it comes to voter protections from violence.

Thanks, Shaylyn and Pam.

Pam, Peter has all the relevant background here and so he should amend/correct, but I understand that the call with NASS, NASED, and election workers and officials is scheduled for this Thurs. 8/26. At the start, it will feature 2-3 minute opening remarks by the AG (b) (5), the DAG (b) (5), and the ASG. I've provided a start for the ASG's remarks in the attached, based on Kristen's recent remarks for the NASS Election Committee (also attached). If you're able to help fill in the highlighted gaps and suggest any revisions today, we'd be most grateful.

As suggested in the attached, my sense is that what might be most useful would be (1 (b) (5)

, and (2 (b) (5)

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to be in touch with Peter or me.

Thanks,

Yes, thanks Pam. There is a chance this call could get pushed, but it is meant to be a forum for election officials to hear about work being done on election security by DOJ/FBI. We have indeed been in touch with PIN (though it's through ODAG's Kevin Chambers), and the DAG will likely touch upon the work being done there. As I get more information I will pass it along. Kevin,
In correspondence between DAG Monaco and CISA DIR Easterly this weekend they raised the opportunity for CISA to stay closely coordinated with the task force on addressing threats to election officials. I lead CISA's Election Security work and would like to offer my support in any way that my team and I can be helpful.

Do we have any resources to support election officials? There is going to be a call on Thursday re: election security and leadership wants to know whether we provide any support that could assist state/locals with election security and support for election workers who face threats.

My initial thought (b) (5)

But, I welcome your guidance and thoughts on this.

If there are resources we should flag for this meeting, please let me know as soon as possible (but no later than 12pm tomorrow).

Related to this request, could you also ask OVC to provide a few talkers (3-5 bullets) that explain the resources election workers could access, should they become a crime victim? As I understand it, one purpose of this call is to highlight all of the support available for election workers that the Department offers.

Thanks, and happy to answer any questions.

Subject: Request for DAG TPs for Thursday Leadership Meeting on Election Threats

Kevin/Corey/John:

As previously discussed, DOJ leadership (AG, DAG, Assoc. AG) are going to host a teleconference on Thursday, August 26, 2021 @ 2pm ET to speak to a number of interested parties about the Department's ongoing efforts to identify and prosecute threats against election officials. The audience will include representatives from NASS and NASED as well as (potentially) local officials and private vendors who operate in this space. The DAG is presently slated to discuss the work of the Election Threats Task Force.

To assist her in preparing for the meeting, we would like the Task Force to prepare a set of brief remarks (4-5 minutes) for the DAG to deliver after the AG speaks. Her remarks should focus on:

- (b) (5)
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]

These may have been covered in prior speeches that John (and perhaps) others have delivered, and you should feel free to rework previous comments into the remarks. It shouldn't be a cut and paste, however, as a good number of the participants in Thursday's call may have been in prior audiences.

In addition, we are trying to anticipate questions that will come up during the Q&A portion of the call. Please provide your insights based on your experience with these groups and recurring questions. A couple concerns we've heard include:

- (b) (5)
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]
- [Redacted]

Tamarra, Peter, and Tim can add additional questions/context if I've missed anything.

As always, thank you for your quick attention to this. Please forward to whomever makes sense on the Task Force (e.g., the folks who helped put together the DAG's election threats memo to field in June)

Best,
Kevin

Theresa,

WebEx has a system limit of 5000 web users in the commercial environment. The largest number is web users within DOJ is 3000, using the ATF contract. However, with those numbers, Q&A is very difficult. We could support a limited number of representatives asking questions real time or having questions sent ahead of the meeting. When you get into a thousand(s) of people attending, Q&A is very difficult.

I will ask Verizon (our WebEx provider) if they offer a service where they moderate large scale meetings. I am not aware of it.

The best unlimited option is to stream the event like we stream press conferences. We would need to identify a subset of people who ask questions and we'd use Chorus Call to moderate the questions. If we go this route, we need to hold the event in 7411. We have done this combination for a previous administration.

If the cost is not extravagant, and you expect a lot of Q&A, a straight Chorus Call event makes sense. If the questions are limited, and we are ok with 3000 participants at most, WebEx can be used.

In case a video solution isn't available, the phone solution mentioned is called Chorus Call. I'm copying in Kelly as given the number of participants expected, I think this could be an exorbitantly expensive solution.

Hi Chris,

I need to give Matt/Tamarra some options TODAY, on how to facilitate this call. They want to setup a line that has “unlimited/max participants”, along with the capability to have a moderator.

Thanks,
Theresa

Thanks Tamarra. A few points:

Theresa is handling tech side of call (working with Chris Greer). Our first choice is video, but we'll likely end up with phone only. Per Chris, PAO has a 3rd party conference call provider that we can use. That said, we'll pursue whatever makes sense here and will make certain that we don't run into a cap on participants issue.

Nikita has been in touch w/ FBI to hold time on director's schedule.

Subject: TELECONFERENCE Thursday, August 26, from 2-3 pm Eastern: Safety and security for state and local election officials

Hi all-

I wanted to gather as many relevant parties as possible on this email without it getting too large, but please feel free to add people.

We are proceeding with a teleconference on safety and security for state and local election officials this Thursday, August 26 from 2-3 pm. This event will be attended by the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, the Associate Attorney General, and (Klapper can confirm) the FBI Director. I do not have the POC from the FBI, if you would please add them to this email that would be great.

1. Invitees: Below, you will see our confirming email to the executive directors for the National Association of Secretaries of State (<https://www.nass.org/>) and the National Association of State Election Directors (<https://www.nased.org/>). They will alert their membership and request that they notify local elections officials through their standard channels. We have separately emailed points of contact for the International Association of Government Officials (<https://iaogo.org/>), the National Association of Counties (<https://www.naco.org/>), and the National Association of Election Officials (<https://www.electioncenter.org/>), though their conference is currently underway so we expect a delayed response.

2. (b) (5): On our call this mornin (b) (5). I discussed this with Matt and we've agreed t (b) (5). Anthony, I've added you above so you are tracking this issue.

3. Third party vendor for the call: Amy and Leslie stressed that with the inclusion of local election officials at the county and municipal level, we could easily have numbers in the several hundreds (or up to 8,000 if all attend, though that is unlikely). They flagged that CISA and others have run into trouble with standard conference lines that cap at 500. Officials try to join and are locked out, creating frustration. Matt mentioned that we have third-party vendor capabilities so we will not have that problem. Please advise who is handling the tech side of the call.

4. Objective for the call: The goal of the call is to reach a wide range of election officials (this is a technical term), state, county, and municipal. In Alabama for example, the county probate judges, who are elected and often aren't lawyers, are integrally involved in elections. Our goal on the call: 1 (b) (5); (b) (5); and 3 (b) (5).

5. Run of Show: We have tentatively discussed the following

Opening

(b) (5)

Hearing from state and local officials: Testimonials / Questions / Discussion

Hi Amy and Leslie

Thank you again for your time this morning. I just called, and I was able to reach Amy; Leslie please feel free to call me back at your convenience. We took a hard look at the schedules and we will need to proceed on Thursday, August 26 from 2 pm-3pm eastern. Amy is graciously reaching out to Meagan Wolf and to David Stafford, and Leslie, I understand you were going to be speaking with your leadership to decide on 2-3 Secretaries of State to provide comments and ask questions.

We realize that an important part of this process is for state and local election officials to be able to share what they have experienced, as they have tried to uphold their oaths and do their duty. We think it will be valuable to hear from them and have them ask questions related to safety and security for state and local election officials.

Please do not hesitate to give me a call with any questions or concerns.

Thanks! Tamarra

Thanks all

One additional invitation suggested by NASED and by CISA are the private vendors who provide the technology, equipment, and personnel to state and local election officials. Based on our conversations, we think their inclusion would be expected. CISA will provide the contact information for the chair and immediate past chair of the government facilities sector, election infrastructure subsector coordinating council, who are each officers in two of the largest vendors in the country, and we will request dissemination of the call information to their cohort. Thanks!

Thanks so much Geoff -
As for the introductions,

Vendors: we would very much appreciate an introduction to (b)(6), (b)(7)(F) per DHS in one email. I looked through your POC list, and I think our plan would be to (b) (5) >. Is it possible to get just the list of vendors, which (I presume) would not include the AP or Amazon, just looking at the A's.

Local officials: We would very much appreciate an introduction to David Stafford in a separate email, if that's ok. We are already in touch with Ricky Hatch over email.

State officials: We are working through Leslie (NASS) and Amy (NASED) for all secretaries of state and election directors. We've met with them so are deferring to them for contacts with their members.

Thanks again for the very helpful and informative call - T

Thank you all for meeting, I have attached the POC lists, per our discussion. One item to note, on the industry side, the SCC, there are Associate Press points of contact. These folks are firewalled from reporters and reporting, they represent the election night reporting portion of the AP and we work with them on securing those systems.

For your follow up request of individual introductions, who from DOJ would you like me to have on the introductory email?

My understanding is to facilitate introductions for:

Vendors:

(b)(6), (b)(7)(F) per DHS, Hart Intercivic (SCC Chair (b)(6), (b)(7)(F) per DHS, ES&S (SCC Immediate past chair)

Election officials

David Stafford (Escambia Co, FL)

Ricky Hatch (Weber Co, Utah)

Was there anyone else that you would like connections to? Any of the Secretaries or State Election Directors?

Best,
Geoff Hale

Received, this looks like about 7 by my count. We will likely as (b)(6), (7)(F) per DHS to make the invite, but steer them to inviting this list of 7.

We will link up with them following the lead of your email introducing us to them - thanks again! Tamarra

Thanks so much Geoff -

And it's nice to meet you David. You may have already heard from Amy at NASED about this. We are planning a teleconference for our leadership the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, and the Associate Attorney General to speak with state and local election officials nationwide. Amy has already warned us we will need an incredible call capability, so that is in the works. And I wanted to make sure we reached out not only to contacts at NASS and NASED, but also to groups composed of local election officials. We look forward to meeting you thanks!

Matt,

It would be very helpful if we could talk tonight about how OAG wants to move forward. As you can imagine, this is very short notice and we want to make sure it all goes well.

I'll be home around 7pm and could talk anytime after if you have time.

I have a discussion with Zoom tomorrow morning about a option to hold up to 10K participants. My concern about Q&A with such a large meeting still holds true, but this could be an option that gives us “unlimited” participation.

More to follow once I meet with Zoom.

Matt and I spoke this evening and I have a better idea of how the program will run. I'll put together a few options and work with Tamarra, Peter and Theresa Watson in the morning to decide which way to go.

I still need to meet with Zoom in the morning to determine if they are an option, but will provide the options to the working group assuming they are.

Team,

After speaking with Matt tonight, this is my understanding of the meeting logistics:

- An unknown number of people may join the meeting, from a few hundred to multiple thousands
- Based on DHS experience, DOJ does not want to turn away anyone wanting to join away because of space limitations
- Questions will come from 5-7 (meant not as an exact number, but a place holder) known groups/individuals
- Presenters and limited participants asking questions should be on video for everyone to see. All other participants will have their video and microphones turned off, but will be able to see the presenters

Below are the options we have to choose from. I only highlighted basic Pros and Cons for each option. More can/will be flushed out in discussion.

Option 1:

- Use Zoom Events as the meeting platform
 - Can handle up to 10,000 people in total, including presenters and participants
 - Assuming at this point it works like WebEx events, presenters and those asking questions are given a unique link to join the meeting. This link allows the users video and audio to be active. As host, I can turn off the video for the users asking questions until it is time to ask the question.
 - Assuming at this point it works like WebEx events, the general participants are provided a unique audience link that allows them to enter the meeting, but their camera and microphone cannot be turned on. They will be able to see and hear the presenters, but video, audio, chat and Q&A are all turned off.
 - Question for this team do we want to require the participants to pre-register their email addresses so it is limited to only those on the registration list or should it be open to anyone with the link? In the spirit of inclusion, I recommend anyone with the link, but we lose control over who attends. This will be difficult anyway with thousands of people
 - OCIO would request support from Zoom to set the meeting up to ensure it is done properly
 - Pros for this solution:
 - We can support up to 10,0000 participants
 - We can use video for presenters
 - Likely no additional cost to DOJ
 - Cons for this solution:
 - DOJ is not licensed for this product. Working with Zoom to get a one time use agreement
 - DOJ does not have experience with the Zoom Event platform, though we have used the WebEx version
 - There is no automatic transcript generated. Video would need to be sent to 3rd party if required
 - Guessing at functionality as of tonight. OCIO needs to meet with Zoom on Wednesday to confirm it can support the bullet points I laid out above
 - Difficult to limit the participants to an invited list. Can be done, but reality is the press or other could still join the meeting

Option 2

- Use WebEx Events as the meeting platform

- All the same bullet points for how the meeting is run is the same as option 1. The difference between this and Zoom is there is a 3000 person limit using WebEx and we need to engage with ATF as they hold the license at this user limit. JMD user limit is 1000 people
- Pros for this solution:
 - DOJ has experience using this platform for large meetings. JMD used it to hold a discussion with DOJ employees, contractors and DC stakeholders to discuss the safety of the NOMA area (where 2CON/3CON and 4CON are located). We had 700-800 people, but at a certain point, large meetings are all run the same way
 - Can handle audio and video requirements for the presenters and people asking questions
 - No additional cost to DOJ
- Cons for this solution:
 - Capped at 1000 to 3000 people, depending on JMD or ATF license
 - There is no automatic transcript generated. Video would need to be sent to 3rd party if required
 - Difficult to limit the participants to an invited list. Can be done, but reality is the press or other could still join the meeting

Option 3

- Use Chorus Call, which is a traditional, moderated conference telephone bridge

- All participants call into the bridge number provided by Chorus Call
- Chorus Call controls whose microphones are open, limiting it to those DOJ say can talk and a when they can talk
- DOJ provides the names of the participants to Chorus Call who can ask questions. When DOJ signals to Chorus Call we are ready for Q&A, they will open the appropriate lines and announce who and from what organization is asking the question
- There is NO video, strictly voice
- Pros for this solution:
 - An “unlimited” number of participants can join the call
 - DOJ can direct Chorus Call to the people who will ask questions
 - Known solution, though not at this volume
- Cons for this solution:
 - Depending on the number of people, this solution could cost tens of thousands of dollars
 - A transcript is not generated automatically, but can be provided for an additional cost
 - Each caller has to register with Chorus Call either ahead of time or when they want to join the meeting. If thousands of people join, this could cause a significant delay to starting the meeting

Option 4

- Use DOJ Livestreaming platform

- Set up is similar to a press conference, preferably with presenters in room 7411
- Questions can be sent to DOJ ahead of time and read aloud by a designated DOJ presenter
- Pros for this solution:
 - Truly allows an “unlimited” number of people to join the meeting
 - Event can be recorded and stored on DOJNet for the Press or anyone else to review after the fact within hours
 - We have the most experience with this platform
 - No wait time to join the meeting
 - Tracking available to determine location (by state, territory or country) of users joining the meeting
 - Stable platform with most confidence things will go smoothly
- Cons for this solution:
 - Open to anyone with the link, including Press

- Not interactive with the people receiving the message/impersonal delivery method

Based on the requirements Matt provided, my recommendation is Option 1 Zoom. However, it is contingent on Zoom providing the functionality as I described as with them providing us rights to “demo” the platform on short notice. I’ve already engaged Melinda Rogers, DOJ CIO, in case we need an executive push with Zoom.

I’ll be available to meet/discuss with this team any time after 9:15am on Wednesday.\

Regards,
Chris

Hi all -

I wanted to expand the group on Chris' email to ensure we have appropriate visibility.

Location: the best communication location in my experience has been the 7th floor (location of the LE leaders meeting and the ABA meeting among others) because it has superior audio and video capability.

I've been in the AG and DAG's conference rooms as an in-person and a virtual participant, and I've experienced significant variability in sound quality. So regardless of the platform, I wanted to put in a plug for that location.

Audio and Video: I think we will need our leadership on video, plus the executive directors of NASS and NASED, plus the 4-5 speakers who will address the leadership and ask questions. I think those 7-8 access points will need video and the ability to mute and unmute themselves. Plus I think it is important that those who are sharing their experiences as election officials have the ability to see our leadership, and vice versa.

It is fine for all others to have their mics muted and video off, without the ability to activate them, or even no video at all if that's a limit on our capability.

Finally, we certainly don't want people locked out due to capacity, but this call is occurring with somewhat limited notice, so I am thinking more several hundreds than several thousands. I just wanted to flag an issue we've learned about from the past.

I believe this leads to Chris' option number one as the top option.

We will want to send the call information sometime Wednesday morning

Hey Paula/Arlene & Team,
The AG will need to use the 7th Floor Conference Center on Thursday from 2pm - 3pm.
See details below and Chris Greer will be the tech POC.

Good morning Theresa,

After checking the calendar, it appears the AG will be bumping the (CRM (b)(6) per CRM - Fireside Chat: AAG Polite and APP Section Chief Patty Stemler) scheduled from 2:00 to 4:00. Does OAG wish us to try to reschedule CRM or is the AG's timeframe flexible?

I confirmed the Zoom license for 10,000 people. It is set up under my Zoom license. The invitation to the speakers/anyone we want on camera, has to come from the Zoom account. I cannot copy and paste it into an AG meeting invitation. Nikita can send a separate invitation from the AG calendar as a placeholder, if that makes sense. We also need to ensure that people outside of DOJ can access Zoom from their network. Some organizations block this type of connection and need to open firewalls. It is likely not a problem, but it could be. I suggest sending a test meeting invitation for later today asking people to ensure their connection works ahead of the meeting.

Assuming we don't want everyone joining the meeting to pre-register, the invitation for the masses can be copied into a regular meeting invitation and sent from the AG calendar or via email. If we don't want people to register, I need to know the email addresses for everyone attending. Given the nature and timing of the event, I assume this is not feasible.

I saw Theresa requested 7411 be reserved for the meeting tomorrow. We will need to know how the room should be setup ahead of time. I'll then test the Zoom meeting and technology in 7411 to ensure we are successful tomorrow at 2pm.

Are there other concerns/questions that need to be answered? If there are technical ones, please call me immediately so we can work out ASAP.

Regards,
Chris

To ensure I am tracking, we can now receive a link that we can email to anyone who is joining purely as an audience member. For the limited group participating by audio and video, we will need the invitation to those specific individuals to initiate from you (the Zoom account).

Yes, Nikita can send the calendar hold for DOJ participants, which should include everyone on the broad group email from yesterday, plus of course the DAG, PADAG, Assoc. AG, FBI director (or designee for calendar invites).

The distribution of the audience invite will go to distro lists controlled by the election organizations - NASS, NASED, NACo, etc. Chris, would you please add the zoom information for the audience members at the end of the caption below? I will need to send this to the executive directors and POCs for the organizations for distribution ASAP. I will follow up with you with the list of specific addressees who will receive the invitation directly from you that will permit them to participate on audio and video.

Tamarra,

Thank you for reaching out on this important topic. Unfortunately I have a county budget meeting at that same time tomorrow and won't be able to attend the call. If you are able to share the call details, i.e. number/log in, I would be happy to push them out to the iGO members. I also have close contact with the Election Center folks and could try to get information to them as well.

Hi Ricky and Eric

Thanks so much for the speedy response Ricky, and for putting us in touch with Eric. You are still needed, because we wanted to catch up with election official contacts for both iGO and NACo. We have also reached out to the National Association of Election Officials, though we realize they are in the midst of their conference so we may receive a delayed response.

We are planning a teleconference for our leadership the Attorney General, the Deputy Attorney General, and the Associate Attorney General to speak with state and local election officials nationwide. Amy has already warned us we will need an incredible call capability, so that is in the works. And I wanted to make sure we reached out not only to contacts at NASS and NASED, but also to groups composed of local election officials.

The call is planned for this Thursday, August 26, from 2-3 pm eastern. We would appreciate you notifying the relevant members and officials in your orbit (and on your distro lists). We'd like to connect with both of you all before then just to meet if you have the time, and to discuss any questions you may have. Best, Tamarra

Hi Tamarra,

Thanks for reaching out. Any friend of Amy is a friend of mine!

Your understanding is not quite complete, but you're on the right path. I was the iGO director of election officials, but am no longer serving in that position. Eric Fey, Elections Director for St. Louis County, is the current POC for iGO's election officials division. I've CC'd him here.

I am, however, the chair of the elections subcommittee for the National Association of Counties (NACo). If there's anything I can help with from the NACo perspective, I'd be happy to help, especially if it provides additional security for election officials across the country.

Thanks again,
Ricky

Tamarra,

Leslie and I both agree that it would be more appropriate for you or someone from your end to moderate since this is your call, not ours.

As for the election official speakers, if you are proposing seven election officials in addition to your four principals making opening remarks, there will be no time for any of the questions to get answered. Having two Secretaries, one NASED representative, and one local representative is already going to cut it close on time. If there's extra time, we could open it up for unscripted questions.

Have you decided whether you will be including the SCC? As I mentioned when we spoke yesterday afternoon, the private sector is a critical partner for election officials and many, from the larger voting system vendors down to the smaller companies and nonprofits, have dealt with threats and harassment and found their engagements with federal, state, and local law enforcement lacking.

Best,

Amy

??Good morning Leslie and Amy,

Thank you for your continued assistance with this event. We expect to have the official link for the event soon, optimally later this morning; I am awaiting the final platform selection by our tech folks.

Below is a proposed format and we welcome your thoughts. We are available to discuss live; I've made sure my schedule is flexible today so we can hop on a call at any time.

Department of Justice Leadership will speak first:

The Attorney General
The Deputy Attorney General
The Associate Attorney General
The FBI Director (or designee)

After the FBI speaker, the Secretary of State or state election director of your choosing would thank those speakers and lead into the election officials. It might be easiest to have one official serve as the moderator or emcee (or Leslie or Amy if you prefer!) to bridge between each of the officials.

Order of election official speakers:

Secretary of State -

Secretary of State -

Secretary of State -

chief election official Meagan Wolf, Wisconsin Election Commission Administrator

[An additional state election official]*

David Stafford, Escambia County (Florida) Supervisor of Elections

[An additional local election official]*

* we may have time for one more official - either a state election director or a local election official - if you have an additional person in mind.

when each election official speaks:

- Name and title;

- If applicable, professional background in elections before their current position;

- An experience or experiences they'd like to share that are personal to them, or their staff, that exhibit the challenges election officials are facing with respect to threats, harassment, or intimidation; and

- A question for Department leadership

As we discussed, we think it is important for our leadership to hear first hand from officials at every level of government, about their own experience or experiences of their staff.

Please send the outlines of the questions when you have them. We'd like to ensure the election officials will not overlap or repeat questions.

Also it would be great to receive the contact information for all the election officials who will participate, just so we can reach out to them this afternoon to thank them for participating.

I welcome your thoughts. Thanks again! Tamarra

Corey/John:

Thank you again for the incredibly quick turn around. I have a few questions in the attached. If easier to call me than responding via email that is fine whatever is more convenient for you.

Best,

Thanks Chris

To ensure I am tracking, we can now receive a link that we can email to anyone who is joining purely as an audience member. For the limited group participating by audio and video, we will need the invitation to those specific individuals to initiate from you (the Zoom account).

Yes, Nikita can send the calendar hold for DOJ participants, which should include everyone on the broad group email from yesterday, plus of course the DAG, PADAG, Assoc. AG, FBI director (or designee for calendar invites).

The distribution of the audience invite will go to distro lists controlled by the election organizations - NASS, NASED, NACo, etc. Chris, would you please add the zoom information for the audience members at the end of the caption below? I will need to send this to the executive directors and POCs for the organizations for distribution ASAP. I will follow up with you with the list of specific addressees who will receive the invitation directly from you that will permit them to participate on audio and video.

Department of Justice Leadership Teleconference
With State and Local Election Officials

Thursday, August 26, 2021

2:00-3:00 p.m. eastern

Via ZOOM: <https://www.zoomgov.com> (b) (6)

(b) (6)

And I like the idea of a test meeting invitation for later today for those who want to test it. Would you please attach that to this caption

Tomorrow's teleconference will proceed via Zoom. For those who wish to test their connection, our technology official will conduct a test call today at 4:30 – 5:30 p.m. ZOOM link for the test call today: <https://www.zoomgov.co> (b) (6)

If I'm missing something, please feel free to give me call, thanks! T

Adding Klapper. The four leaders should be at a table and visible on camera but I think there are Task Force members and Kevin, Tim, Peter and I who will also be in attendance. I imagine we do not wish to be on camera. Everyone else is virtual, so we don't need the typical box set up to accommodate participants. Are there diagrams of potential configurations we could consider.

Good afternoon!

I've had discussions with all of you by phone or email over the past day or so concerning tomorrow's teleconference of Department of Justice leadership with state and local election officials concerning threats to election officials.

Below is the ZOOM invite for the audience. As discussed, we ask that you would please send this to all of your distribution lists for state election officials, local election officials, and voting system vendors. Per Amy and Leslie's great advice, we have a very, very large line to accommodate audience members from all of your organizations, which we understand total in the thousands across the country. Thanks to all of you for facilitating, particularly as some of you are in a conference as we speak.

Anita/Frank:

Attached are draft remarks for the DAG. The plan is for the AG to open the meeting with a discussion on the Dept's commitment (OAG is working on those comments), for the DAG to speak about the work of the Task Force, and for the ASG to make comments (topic not clear at this point). Following that, a number of election officials (bipartisan) will speak about their experiences and concerns and then the floor will be opened for some pre-screened questions. Things are still a bit in flux.

The attached comments were initially provided by the task force and have been vetted with CRM and CRT. We've had several rounds of edits this morning and the attached is where we've landed. Comes in at about 4-5 minutes.

Best,
Kevin

Kelsey:

Hopefully you've connected with Tamarra, who is organizing speakers from the elections community outside of DOJ and is also working with tech to handle the dial-in piece. She is working on the proposed run of show. In short the plan is for each of the AG/DAG/ASG to make brief comments to kick off the call. After that, we will hear from some elections officials who will voice thoughts concerns on behalf of their organizations and colleagues, and then there will be time at the end for pre-screen Q&A. We are working on the DAG's comments now and I understand that OAG/OASG are doing the same.

Please give me a call if you'd like to discuss more specifics.

Kevin

Hello Theresa and Tamarra,

I have spoken with Chris Greer about the teleconference event tomorrow in 7411. He and I will test VTC connectivity later this afternoon. In the meantime, I have a couple questions/comments about the video and audio portion of the event.

How do you envision the video shot of the participants? Do you want the participants to be on the 7411 stage, or seated behind tables on the floor? You mentioned that up to 7 or 8 participants will need to appear on video, however this makes for a very wide video shot if they're all side-by-side. If they're around tables in a U-shape, this makes the camera angles awkward side/profile shots of the folks sitting on the wings.

I propose we use our wireless microphone conferencing system for this event. Each participant will be able to mute/unmute their own microphone. Does this plan sound reasonable?

The far-end VTC participants will be heard and seen with the room PA speakers and the ceiling display screens.

I appreciate your assistance and guidance for this event.

Cheers,
David Zeller

Just so we are tracking on the same email chain, only the 4 principals will be on camera on the seventh floor.

All other participants will be virtual on zoom
So the question is whether you want the giant television screen so that the 4 can see all video participants clearly.

And the rest of us in attendance will need some chairs on the periphery

Hi

Re the audience invite, thanks for sending this to all of your members and they in turn to local officials. We greatly appreciate your assistance.

On to the participants!

As I noted in my email this morning, we will need to have the list of participants with contact information in order to send them the separate link that will allow them to appear on video and with sound.

Leslie and I discussed some contingencies and scheduling issues. In light of that, may we please receive the contact information for

NASS President Secretary of State Kyle Ardoin (LA)
NASS President-Elect Secretary of State Tahesha Way (NJ)
Election Committee co-chairs (erstwhile)
Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson (MI) and Secretary of State Frank LaRose (OH)

Amy and I have discussed

chief election official Meagan Wolf, Wisconsin Election Commission Administrator
David Stafford, Escambia County (Florida) Supervisor of Elections

May I please receive contact information for all of the persons above? (I already have David) It would be great to have this for a tech contact because he has to send the link directly to them (apparently it can't be forwarded). Also, we'd like to speak with them and thank them for participating.

I've re-appended the order of events below.

Department of Justice Leadership will speak first:

The Attorney General
The Deputy Attorney General
The Associate Attorney General
The FBI Director

for each election official:

- Name and title;
- If applicable, professional background in elections before their current position;
- An experience or experiences they'd like to share that are personal to them, or their staff, that exhibit the challenges election officials are facing with respect to threats, harassment, or intimidation; and
- A question for Department leadership

Again, as I emphasized to Leslie when we spoke earlier, this is a great opportunity for election officials to directly tell the leadership of the Justice Department what they and their staff are experiencing. And we will need the list of questions. Thanks again! Tamarra

That is up to the person consuming the event. They can select gallery view or speaker view. Zoom and Webex do not have capabilities like a TV producer to decide whose camera is on the screen at anytime.

Meagan's email address (b) (6). She is at a meeting of her local election offices (she has over 1,900 local jurisdictions in Wisconsin alone), so she may be unable to get on the phone with you today or participate in the test. Is this just a typical ZoomGov or are there other instructions she needs to be aware of?

Hi, Tamarra.

I've got confirmation from Sec. Ardoin (NASS President from Louisiana), Sec. Way (NASS President-elect from NJ) and Sec. Benson from MI. However, Sec. Benson is going to be traveling and won't be able to participate via video, only by calling into Zoom. Does that still work? I just wanted to double check before I confirm with her.

On it. Apologies: what do we mean by event memo? Briefing memo for AG's consumption or something to be pushed out to attendees?

Great, and I've been asked for some details on the mechanics of the TF, when it meets, who is there and presiding, etc. I think we will need a squib on this that I can drop into the event memo for the AG

I've asked John Keller to clear, but will also get confirmation that it is okay by FBI.

To the extent we are still figuring this out, I would recommen (b) (5)

Have asked TF whether we can create a simplified version of the ECC contact list. One name, number, email for each of the FBI's geographic divisions.

Tamarra and all,

Adding my colleague Leslie Reynolds, Executive Director of NASS, because I understand that you also reached out to her. We often do calls like this together because 40 of my members work for her members, and we're happy to do meet jointly with you. Leslie is also free tomorrow morning during the window I mentioned.

Best,

Hi -

This is very informal, just a call so we can connect at a staff level. I imagine you may have important things to note coming out of your conference and after hearing from your membership.

Are you by chance free for 30 minutes in the window from 1 to 2:30 eastern time today?

Hi Tamarra,

Thank you for reaching out, and especially for holding off until after my conference. I'm a staff of one, so even virtually, it takes up a lot of my bandwidth.

I'm happy to do a call this afternoon but would love some additional background on what you'd like to cover so I can make sure I'm prepared.
