You should never
have to choose between housing
and sexual harassment.

If anyone with control over your housing: commented on your body, talked about sex, showed you pornography, exposed self, asked for sexual favors in exchange for rent, threatened your eviction unless you had sex, or touched you without consent, this may be sexual harassment.

Even if you said “yes,” have a criminal history, have been evicted, or were behind on rent.

Contact the Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice.
